

Mobile Cart Solutions

One word that has characterized the pandemic is uncertainty. And, returning to the office is turning out to be the same. When will employees return? Who will return and how many days per week? How will office space need to be changed? What new technology expectations are there?

RoomReady is here to help you navigate the uncertainty with flexible meeting technology solutions. One of those solutions that might be the perfect way to maximize your video capabilities while minimizing the timeline is AV solutions on mobile carts.

Why mobile carts?

- ▶ How you are going to use your office space is unclear.
- ▶ Mobility allows you to have the tech you need even if you don't know where it will be needed yet.
- ▶ The solutions mounted on carts can easily be permanently installed later.
- ▶ No construction costs to install a permanent solution.

When mobile carts make sense?

- ▶ Common area in your office doesn't have video but would be a perfect meeting space if needed.
- ▶ Main conference room can't accommodate as many people due to social distancing so some meetings need to be held in a larger space.
- ▶ More video meetings than before COVID-19 and don't have enough rooms with video capabilities.
- ▶ Unsure of how space will be used and want to have a temporary solution until things normalize.
- ▶ Architectural restrictions (like floor to ceiling windows) often need solutions that won't need to be mounted on a wall.
- ▶ Multi-use spaces (like divisible training rooms) often have temporary walls and need flexible solutions.
